Memory in Bronze and Stone:

Monuments at Antietam National Battlefield

Primarily built by veterans of the battle and states to commemorate their sacrifices here, the monuments are typically located where the troops fought during the battle. There are ninety-six monuments at Antietam. Learn about the story behind some of these monument at our program on Veterans Day.

Brian Baracz has been a ranger at since 2000, providing tours, talks, and hikes to visitors from around the world. When not assisting visitors at the visitor center, he helps run the park website and social media accounts and works closely with the battlefield guide service. Originally from Cleveland, Ohio, he now lives in Frederick, Maryland.

Dinner Menu: Ham and sweet potato balls on pineapple, with green beans and desert.

The dinner program will start at 7:00pm and be held at St Paul's Episcopal Church, 209 W. Main Street

Please RSVP by November 4th to sharpsburglions@gmail.com
